from the salvaged wood of

UC DAVIS
CAMPUS GROWN
Every UC Davis Campus Grown wood bowl, utensil, vase or cutting board is a one-of-a-kind work of art skillfully created by artisans experienced in the traditional craft of woodturning. Each piece is salvaged from campus grown trees that required rigorous pruning or removal for health or safety reasons.

Enjoy the beauty and function of this product every chance you get knowing that, with minimal care, it will last a lifetime!

Funds from the sale of these items support the continued care and planting of campus trees.

The mission of the UC Davis Campus Grown initiative is to transform unused assets into retail products designed to support and promote our university programs and sustainability goals.
